Sched.	First Schedule: Individual & Terminal Benefit Tax Rates	51
Sched.	Fifth Schedule: Qualifying Payments and Specific Reliefs	51

BE it enacted by the Parliament of the Democratic Socialist Republic of Sri Lanka as follows:—

PART I: PRELIMINARY AND IMPOSITION OF INCOME TAX

Short title and date of operation.

1. (1) This Act may be cited as the Inland Revenue (Amendment) Act, No. 100 of 2026.
- (2) This Act shall come into operation on the first day of April, 2026, and shall apply in respect of the year of assessment commencing on April 1, 2026 and subsequent years of assessment, unless expressly provided otherwise.
- (3) The Inland Revenue Act, No. 24 of 2017 is in this Act referred to as the “principal enactment”.

Charging provision.

2. (1) Income tax shall be payable for each year of assessment by—
 - (a) a person who has taxable income for that year; or
 - (b) a person who receives a final withholding payment during that year.
- (2) The amount of income tax payable by a person for any year of assessment shall be the total of the amounts payable under subsection (1).
- (3) The income tax payable by a person under paragraph (a) of subsection (1) shall be calculated by applying the relevant rates of income tax set out in the First Schedule to this Act to that person’s taxable income, deducting any foreign tax credit properly claimed and allowed under section 80, and deducting any other tax credits granted or allowed to the person for the year under this Act.
- (4) The income tax payable by a person under paragraph (b) of subsection (1) shall be calculated by applying the relevant rate set out in the First Schedule to each final withholding payment.

Taxable income.

3. (1) Subject to subsection (2), the taxable income of a person for a year of assessment shall be equal to the aggregate of the person’s assessable income for the year from each employment, business, investment, and other source.
- (2) In arriving at the taxable income of a resident or non-resident individual for a year of assessment, qualifying payments and individual reliefs for that year under section 52 and Part VI A shall be deducted.
- (3) The taxable income of each person and the assessable income from each separate source shall be determined and accounted for separately in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

Assessable income.

4. (1) The assessable income of a person for a year of assessment from employment, business, investment, or other source shall be equal to—

(a) in the case of a resident person, the person's worldwide income from employment, business, investment, or other source for that year, wherever the source arises; and

(b) in the case of a non-resident person, the person's income from the employment, business, investment, or other source for that year, to the extent that the income arises in or is derived from a source in Sri Lanka.

(2) Assessable income shall be determined after deducting all allowable expenses, capital allowances, and qualifying deductions expressly permitted by Division IV of Chapter II.

Employment income.

5. (1) An individual's income from an employment for a year of assessment shall be the individual's gains and profits from that employment for that year of assessment.

(2) In calculating an individual's gains and profits from an employment, there shall be included all salaries, wages, leave pay, overtime, fees, commissions, bonuses, gratuities, personal allowances (including cost of living, subsistence, rent, entertainment, or travel allowance), reimbursements of personal expenses, and the fair market value of benefits in kind received or derived by virtue of the employment.

(3) There shall be excluded from employment income any exempt amounts, genuine reimbursements of expenses incurred wholly and exclusively on behalf of the employer's business, and non-discriminatory health and medical benefits available to all full-time employees on equal terms.

Business income.

6. (1) A person's income from a business for a year of assessment shall be the person's gains and profits from conducting the business for the year.

(2) In calculating gains and profits from conducting a business, there shall be included service fees, consideration received in respect of trading stock, gains from the realisation of business capital assets and depreciable assets, gifts received in connection with the business, and amounts derived that are effectively connected with the business.

(3) There shall be excluded exempt amounts and final withholding payments, as well as amounts included in calculating employment income.

Investment income.

7. (1) A person's income from an investment for a year of assessment shall be the person's gains and profits from that investment for that year.

(2) In calculating investment income, there shall be included dividends, interest, discounts, charges, annuities, natural resource payments, rents, premiums, royalties, gains from the realisation of investment assets, and lottery or betting winnings.

(3) There shall be excluded exempt amounts, final withholding payments, and amounts included in calculating employment or business income.

Other income.

- 8. (1) A person's income from other sources for a year of assessment shall be that person's gains and profits from any source whatsoever for the year, not including profits of a casual and non-recurring nature.
- (2) In calculating income from other sources, there shall be excluded exempt amounts, final withholding payments, and amounts included under employment, business, or investment income.

Exempt amounts.

- 9. (1) The amounts referred to in the Third Schedule to this Act shall be exempt from the payment of income tax.
- (2) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, an exemption of any person or amount from tax imposed by this Act shall not be granted, and an agreement that affects or purports to affect the application of this Act shall not be entered into, except as expressly provided for in this Act.
- (3) Subsection (2) shall not apply to an express provision in another primary statute or an international agreement that is in force on the date of commencement of this Act.

General principles of deduction.

- 10. (1) No deduction shall be made in calculating a person's income from employment.
- (2) The following deductions shall not be allowed in calculating a person's income from business or investment

- (a) domestic or private expenditure incurred by the individual;
- (b) income tax, capital gains tax, or penalty payable under this Act;
- (c) fines, interest, and penalties payable to any government or statutory authority for breach of written law;
- (d) expenditure incurred in deriving exempt amounts or final withholding payments;
- (e) transfers to reserves, provisions for future contingent liabilities, or unrealised losses; and
- (f) outlays for personal entertainment, recreational hospitality, or domestic travel.

- (3) Where a person is required to withhold tax under Division II of Chapter VIII from a payment, no deduction for that payment shall be allowed until the tax withheld has been duly remitted to the Commissioner-General.

Main deduction for business and investment expenses.

- 11. (1) In calculating a person's income from a business or investment for a year of assessment, expenses to the extent they are incurred during the year by the person in the production of income from that business or investment shall be deducted.
- (2) No deduction shall be allowed under subsection (1) for an expense of a capital nature, except as expressly permitted by section 14, 15, or 16, or the Second or Fourth Schedule.
- (3) In this section, 'expense of a capital nature' includes any expenditure that secures an enduring benefit or asset capable of lasting longer than twelve months.

Interest expense.

12. (1) For the purposes of section 11, interest incurred by a person during a year of assessment under a debt obligation shall be deemed to be incurred in the production of income to the extent that the borrowed money was used during the year in the production of income or to acquire an asset employed in the business.
- (2) In any other case, interest shall be deductible only where the debt obligation was incurred directly in the production of assessable income.

Allowance for trading stock.

13. (1) In calculating a person's income from a business for a year of assessment, there shall be deducted an allowance for trading stock calculated as opening value plus purchases and production costs incurred during the year less closing value.
- (2) The opening value of trading stock for a year of assessment shall equal the closing value at the end of the previous year.
- (3) The closing value of trading stock shall be the lower of cost or market value at the end of the year.

Repairs and improvements.

14. (1) Expenses for the repair or improvement of depreciable assets meeting the requirements of subsection (1) of section 11 shall be deducted irrespective of whether they are of a capital nature.
- (2) Deductions granted for a year of assessment with respect to a depreciable asset shall not exceed five per cent of the written-down value for Class 4 assets (buildings) and twenty per cent for all other classes of depreciable assets.
- (3) Any excess expense for which a deduction is denied by virtue of subsection (2) shall be added to the depreciation basis of the asset.

Research and development and agricultural start-up expenses.

15. (1) Research and development expenses and agricultural start-up expenses meeting the criteria of section 11 may be deducted in full irrespective of whether they are of a capital nature.
- (2) Agricultural start-up expenses include land clearing, drainage, preparation of tanks, planting of perennial crops, and livestock procurement for breeding.
- (3) Research and development expenses include scientific, industrial, or agricultural research conducted through recognized institutions in Sri Lanka for upgrading products or technical processes.

Capital allowances and balancing allowances.

16. (1) Capital allowances and balancing allowances calculated in accordance with the Second and Fourth Schedules shall be deducted in calculating business income.
- (2) Capital allowances shall be granted in respect of depreciable assets owned and used by a person at the end of a year of assessment in the production of income from a business.
- (3) Capital allowances granted with respect to a particular year shall be taken in that year and shall not be deferred to a subsequent year of assessment except as provided in the Second Schedule.

Losses on realisation of business assets and liabilities.

17. (1) A loss incurred by a person on the realisation during the year of a business capital asset or business liability shall be deductible in calculating business income.

(2) The loss shall be calculated under Chapter IV as the excess of the cost over the consideration received.

Limitation on deductible financial costs.

18. (1) The amount of financial costs deducted in calculating an entity's income (other than a financial institution) for a year of assessment shall not exceed the financial costs attributable to financial instruments within the statutory thin capitalization limit.

(2) The limit shall be computed as issued share capital and non-revaluation reserves multiplied by 3 in the case of manufacturing entities, and multiplied by 4 in the case of other entities.

(3) Denied financial costs may be carried forward for a maximum period of six subsequent assessment years.

Deduction of business and investment losses.

19. (1) In calculating income from a business, unrelieved losses from any other business for the year and unrelieved losses from any of the previous six years of assessment shall be deducted.

(2) Unrelieved losses from a business may be deducted in calculating income from an investment, but unrelieved losses from an investment shall only be deducted against investment income.

(3) A loss from the realisation of an investment asset shall not be deducted against gains from other investment assets except as expressly authorized by regulations.

PART VI A: SPECIAL INDIVIDUAL RELIEFS FOR 2026/27

Scope and application of special 2026/27 reliefs.

69. (1) The provisions of this Part shall apply exclusively in arriving at the taxable income of resident individuals for the year of assessment commencing on April 1, 2026.

(2) The reliefs enacted under this Part are specific statutory concessions designed to promote family welfare, human capital development, and residential green transport infrastructure.

(3) An individual claiming relief under this Part shall satisfy all eligibility conditions, maintain proper documentary verification records, and make an express declaration in the annual tax return.

Childcare Support Relief.

- 70. (1) An individual chargeable with income tax for the year of assessment commencing on April 1, 2026, who incurs qualifying childcare support expenditure during the year shall be entitled to a deduction equal to fifty per centum (50%) of such expenditure.
- (2) The maximum aggregate deduction allowable to an individual under this section shall not exceed Rupees two hundred and forty thousand (Rs. 240,000) for the year of assessment.
- (3) 'Qualifying expenditure' means payments made directly to approved day-care centres, licensed creches, pre-schools, or registered nurseries for the care and supervision of a child under twelve years of age.
- (4) Where parents or guardians incur shared expenditure, the claim shall be apportioned based on actual contribution, subject to the overall ceiling of Rs. 240,000.
- (5) Expenditure reimbursed or subsidized by an employer or state agency shall be excluded from the qualifying base.

Professional Skills Development Relief.

- 71. (1) An individual who incurs qualifying expenditure during the year of assessment commencing on April 1, 2026, for professional education, vocational skills upgrading, or technical certification shall be entitled to deduct one hundred per centum (100%) of such expenditure.
- (2) The total deduction allowable under this section shall not exceed Rupees two hundred thousand (Rs. 200,000) for the year of assessment.
- (3) Qualifying institutions include chartered professional bodies, universities established under the Universities Act, No. 16 of 1978, and TVEC-accredited technical institutes.
- (4) Qualifying expenditure comprises tuition fees, exam fees, registration charges, and official course textbooks, but excludes personal living, accommodation, or travel costs.

Electric Vehicle Charging Infrastructure Relief.

- 72. (1) A resident individual who incurs capital expenditure on the procurement and installation of residential electric vehicle (EV) charging equipment and dedicated power infrastructure shall be entitled to deduct one hundred per centum (100%) of such expenditure.
- (2) The aggregate relief deductible under this section shall not exceed Rupees two hundred and fifty thousand (Rs. 250,000) for the 2026/27 assessment year.
- (3) The relief is contingent upon installation at the individual's principal place of residence and compliance with safety certifications issued by the Public Utilities Commission of Sri Lanka or Ceylon Electricity Board.
- (4) A valid technical compliance certificate and certified contractor tax invoice must be furnished upon request.

Personal relief threshold.

- 73. (1) Every resident individual and every non-resident citizen of Sri Lanka shall be entitled to deduct a personal relief of Rupees three million (Rs. 3,000,000) for the year of assessment commencing on April 1, 2026.
- (2) The personal relief shall not be deducted by an individual acting in the capacity of a trustee, executor, receiver, or liquidator.
- (3) The personal relief shall not be deducted against gains from the realisation of investment assets or final withholding payments.

Taxation of retirement and terminal benefits.

74. (1) Notwithstanding the ordinary individual tax progressive rates, qualifying terminal benefits, retiring gratuities, commuted pensions, and approved provident fund payments shall be assessed separately and taxed under a dedicated progressive ladder.

(2) The tax payable on taxable terminal benefits for the year of assessment 2026/27 shall be computed as follows—

(a) First Rs. 1,000,000: 6% of the amount;

(b) Exceeding Rs. 1,000,000 but not exceeding Rs. 2,000,000: Rs. 60,000 plus 12% of the excess over Rs. 1,000,000;

(c) Exceeding Rs. 2,000,000 but not exceeding Rs. 4,000,000: Rs. 180,000 plus 18% of the excess over Rs. 2,000,000;

(d) Exceeding Rs. 4,000,000: Rs. 540,000 plus 24% of the excess over Rs. 4,000,000.

(3) The employer or fund manager making the terminal payment shall withhold tax at the statutory rates specified in subsection (2) and remit the proceeds within fifteen days of the end of the calendar month.
